

TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF BUSINESS

At Phil Guy Computer & Repairs we endeavour to conduct honest, reasonable and considerate services. Our goal is to provide the highest quality of service and support. Equipment repairs and services are provided as a service and specific results cannot be guaranteed. There may be circumstances after taking time to make detailed judgements that your equipment cannot be repaired, in this case it may need to be upgraded or the work abandoned for example: equipment too old, repair or replacement parts are obsolete or simply that the cost of repair makes it unviable. The length of time required to service or repair your equipment cannot be predicted. All Remote Repair services are subject to the terms in this agreement.

DATA LOSS

REGULAR BACK-UPS ARE PART OF RESPONSIBLE COMPUTER OWNERSHIP, AND MUST BE UNDERTAKEN BY YOU PRIOR TO GIVING THE EQUIPMENT TO US FOR REPAIR OR SERVICE. THE VERY PROCESS OF WORKING ON YOUR COMPUTER EQUIPMENT MEANS THERE IS A POTENTIAL FOR DATA LOSS. PHIL GUY COMPUTER & REPAIRS CANNOT BE HELD RESPONSIBLE FOR ANY POTENTIAL LOSS OF DATA OR NON FUNCTIONALITY OF SOFTWARE ARISING OUT OF A REPAIR OR SERVICE TO EQUIPMENT.

Several threats exist which can result in the corruption or loss of data stored on a computer, drive or medium. Data loss can result from hardware failure, user error, and system contamination.

Data loss can result from hardware failure due to the fact that computers use magnetic media to store data. Although this technology is quite reliable data can be lost through the gradual decomposition of the magnetic media itself or the failure of the mechanical components used to read and write the data from the media. The media and mechanical components have a limited life span which can be as short as a few days or as long as several years. The media and the mechanical components will certainly fail at some point resulting in the loss of data. Whilst SSD drives and memory are seen as more robust, these too can also fail over time. User error can cause the loss of data. Computer users have the ability to erase the entire contents of a magnetic, SSD drive or memory. If a backup of the data that has been accidentally erased does not exist, it may be impossible to recover the data. Data loss can also occur as a result of system contamination, usually caused by malware or virus. Computer malware and viruses can be introduced into a system in a number of ways and can result in the corruption or deletion of data.

Therefore; whilst Phil Guy Computer & Repairs will take great precaution to preserve your data, Phil Guy Computer & Repairs will not be held liable for data loss under any circumstances. If you have data that must be preserved we recommend you make multiple backups and that you store these backups in multiple locations to avoid loss from fire, flood, theft or other circumstance. The customer is responsible for backing up all software, data, e-mail and passwords on their computers, network and other data storage devices before work is scheduled to be performed by us. Phil Guy Computer & Repairs shall not be held responsible at any time under any circumstances for any loss or corruption of any software, data, operating system, or files as detailed above nor will Phil Guy Computer & Repairs be responsible for restoring lost data.

For an additional charge and with explicit instruction, we do offer a data back-up service, but cannot guarantee that all data is copied, particularly in the case of malware infected equipment or pre-existing hard drive or software damage. Moreover, given the millions of files on a typical machine, it is unrealistic for us to know what software is being utilised by the user and where the data for this software is stored. FOR CLARITY, WE THEREFORE RECOMMEND THAT CLIENTS POINT THEIR SOFTWARE TOWARDS THE LIBRARY FILES LOCATION FOR ANY APPLICATION DATA STORAGE TO MAKE BACKUP EASIER AND MORE CERTAIN AND/OR LET US KNOW IN WRITING THE DATA STORAGE LOCATIONS OF ANY ADDITIONAL SOFTWARE AND WHAT YOU WOULD LIKE US TO COPY BEFORE WE COMMENCE WORK AS WE WILL NOT NORMALLY BACK UP ANY LOCATIONS OTHER THAN THE MAIN USER LIBRARY FILES WHEN ASKED TO PERFORM DATA BACK-UP. If you suspect data loss has occurred you must notify us within 14 days, as for Data Protection Act principles we may destroy any electronic data copies that we may hold through work undertaken after this period.

Passwords are not usually recoverable and product keys may not be obtainable. E-mail data and configuration stored on the machine can be particularly difficult to ascertain if the computer is not fully functional including passwords and settings to access your e-mail. It is not possible to retain any program software you have on your machine in a working state unless you have the installation discs and any product keys relating to it.

The customer understands and accepts that occasionally, some applications may no longer work properly after a repair, due to the installation of different hardware or software. It is the customer's responsibility to reconfigure or reinstall any such applications.
